

Promotional Copy for Laughter After Fifty

Comedian David Glickman combines comedy and music in the high-energy show Laughter After Fifty. Audiences from coast to coast are enjoying David's innovative show that celebrates "What's So Funny About Getting Older!"

Laughter After Fifty includes over 25 song parodies, observational humor, funny visuals, and laugh-out-loud stories that all combine for an exciting entertainment experience.

David explains that the show has been designed for audiences who embrace the fact that "Comedy Never Gets Old." He promises that the material is clean and is relatable for audiences of all ages.

David Glickman has been a professional comedian and keynote speaker for over 25 years and has presented over 2,000 programs. He's worked with Steve Martin, he's been the opening act for Ellen DeGeneres, and he even performed at Gloria Estefan's birthday party. He has appeared on "Evening at the Improv" and several other national television shows. David is the author of Speaking of Funny: 77 Ways to Add Humor to Any Presentation and has been inducted into the Speaker Hall of Fame.